

A BUSY PLACE was the tent that accommodated the diners at sauerkraut and weiner day program. Serving began at 3:30 and continued until 5:30. There was also a ballgame in the afternoon and at the close of the day there was a concert by the Frankfort grade school band.

THE PARK PAVILION served as a kitchen and serving center—the place one would seek if someone yelled "Come and get it." Can't tell you who that is in the right foreground—he got away before his name could be obtained but that chap poised over the big kettle with a fork in his hand is Magistrate George Sangmeister who is a candidate for state's attorney on the Democrat ticket. A POPULAR PASTIME was trying to dunk these two caps in the rôle of African Dodgers. If one hits a trigger by hurling baseballs at a small target the mechanism that hold's the man's perch in place is suddenly released and he is dropped into a tank of water. The man on the left was Ted Massey, the gas station man, and the other was Jim McLemore, of the match factory. That's Burton Breidert, lumber dealer, at the left. He was one of the spillers at this pitch.

Booster Club To Aid L-W Athletic Program

Feeling the need for a Booster Club at Lincoln-Way, a committee consisting of Wendell Hamilton, Dr. Claude Otto, Joe Gregg and Carl Schonwise met with Joe Kruzich, athletic director of LWS. After their initial meeting a sampling of the feeling of some L-W district residents was taken.

A second meeting of the original five plus the six different varsity coaches and the Rev. James Parker was called. At this second meeting it was decided to go forward with the project and to ask the board of education for their approval.

The general purpose of this organization is to boost athletics and make its club members available to help promote athletics at L-W. There are no limitations on who can join. The Boosters need not live in the L-W district. The doors are open to all.

Programs consisting of the participation of all athletic teams, films of games and general discussion will be held plus recreation, coffee klutches and the entertaining of visiting teams were some items placed on the agenda. The coaches and committee were in agreement that the Rev. Mr. Parker act as general chairman of this organization backed up by the four original committee members. The committee placed themselves at the disposal of the chairman and will assist him in any duties that he may want them to perform.

The first program will be a combined meeting with the football players' parents at 5:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 11. A complete football program plus a scrimmage will be held on the football field. The group will then go into the school AP Room for a short meeting.

Excellence In Education Is Goal Of Faculty At Alonzo Stagg High

BY MARVIN MILLER

To a casual observer driving down 111th Street, Amos Alonzo Stagg high school, with its three wings and pillared front, looks different from many high schools in this area. Some observers have called it the "most beautiful school in the south suburban area."

Inside, the differences are also apparent. With only one week of classes out of the way, some of these differences can be readily seen.

Ray Bentz, principal in charge of the school, lists three areas which will receive special attention this year.

Classes have been kept small, averaging about 24 students each, in order to provide students with individual attention. Bentz called the 22 teachers on the staff "highly qualified people, a fine instructional staff."

Much of the individual instruction will be given to students in "labs" -- a reading service staffed by Mrs. Lorraine B. Abraham who attended a Science Research Associates' clinic in reading this past summer; the guidance lab, where students can view films about various occupations, take aptitude tests, etc.

To make these facilities more readily available, capable students in non-laboratory courses may leave class during the last 20 minutes of the hour to avail themselves of special services. The "modular scheduling" program gives deserving students free time for independent study, special services, and seminars.

These privileges will be reviewed periodically and students who do not use them properly will be denied this opportunity. Bentz said, "We are trying to teach the students to think for themselves, to guide themselves, and to pursue a special interest. We realize that some will not achieve this; but most will. These students will benefit greatly from the modular scheduling."

The curriculum is the third area to receive special attention at Stagg high this year. Under this program, classes which are closely related in content will occasionally meet together.

Geography and world history classes, for example, might be combined once a week for lectures by experts in the field. A special classroom, with a sliding divider, has been set up for this use.

The student government at Staff will function under this same large - group program. Directed by Miss Karen Lundgren, the group will meet during 5th hour each week. Already they have begun to set up a code of conduct for students. Bentz said that the goal of this group is to "give students an opportunity to express their views."

Bentz is confident that this approach to education will give Stagg high, which functions independently of its sister school, Carl Sandburg, a personality of its own.

He lists four points in the school's philosophy which will enable students to: achieve

Palos Heights Couple Dies In Plane Crash

A man and his wife from Palos Heights and another man were killed Sunday when the plane in which they were riding crashed in the backyard of the Robert Flory home at 3829 W. 156th st., Markham.

Dead are:

Bernard G. DeWitt, 57, of 12545 S. 69th ave.; his wife, Alice, 56, and Gerrit J. Poelstra, 50, of 11225 Emerald ave.

Poelstra was believed to have been piloting the plane, according to the police report of the accident. He and John Kamp, 13000 Centra ave., Palos Heights, owned the plane, a Piper Apache. Kamp said he had flown the craft from Minneapolis to the Howell airport at Midlothian from which it took off on its ill fated flight, and said it was in perfect working condition.

All three of the occupants were licensed pilots. They had been flying 20 years and held commercial ratings. Mrs. DeWitt in 1958 became the first Illinois woman to obtain a license to fly helicopters.

She had served as bookkeeper in her husband's coil manufacturing firm at Blue Island.

All three were trapped inside the plane. Mr. DeWitt appeared to be alive when removed from the wreck and was taken to Oak Forest hospital.

A witness to the crash told police that he saw the plane coming in low over some trees and heard the pilot race one of the engines. The witness said he thought the other engine was dead.

The fuselage broke in two and the engines dug into the ground by the impact, it was stated.

Newly Organized PTA To Start Year Sept. 15

The first meeting of the newly organized Orland PTA will be held Tuesday evening, Sept. 15, at the Orland Park school gymnasium at 9960 West 143rd Street. Boy Scout Troop 318 will present the colors, and refreshments will be served by the PTA board.

The political convention theme will reign supreme with placards and standards in different colors dividing the gym into the individual grades where the teachers and room representatives will greet parents at a get-acquainted session which will follow a short business meeting.

The Orland PTA was organized after much discussion last winter about the trend in consolidating Parent-Teacher Associations in the same district. This led to the PTA's in the community combining for several special meetings to discuss the pro's and con's of merging. It was on April 27, last spring that an organizational meeting was held at the Orland Center building and the new Orland PTA was formed. At that time the by-laws were approved and officers elected. Charles A. McKinley was elected as the first male PTA president in Orland Park with Mrs. Fred Diekman as vice president, Martin Lesniewicz as secretary and Mrs. Robert A. Montessor as treasurer.

Board members appointed were: Mrs. Eugene Yunker, membership; Mrs. Charles Rullman, ways & means; Mrs. Thomas Curtin and Mrs. William Rietveld, room representative co-chairman; Mrs. Henry Moorehouse and Mrs. Victor Fischer, program co-chairman; Mrs. George Buckley, family and home; Mrs. Daniel Whitfield, hospitality; Mrs. Billy Clark, budget and finance; Mrs. E. J. Plakovic, health; Mrs. Raymond Manning, recreation; Mrs. Dudley Buck, PTA magazine; Mrs. John P. Furlong, Jr., outside publicity; Mrs. Charles McKinley, inside publicity; Mrs. Roger Sedgewick, high school service; and Miss Mary Ginder, historian.

The board is working hard to capture attention for the school year, and to promote the welfare of children in home, school, church and community thru the PTA theme of "Let's learn together."

Orland Youth Soldiering In Germany

Army PFC William Clark Jr., whose parents live at 14705 Hollyct., Orland Park, and other members of the 3d Armored Division participated in a three-week field training exercise at Grafenwohr, Germany, that ended Sept. 4.

Clark is undergoing extensive weapons familiarization and tactical field training. The 23-year-old soldier, a tank gunner in Company A, 2d Battalion of the division's 32d Armor near Kirch Gons, Germany,

WITH A GENERAL ELECTION coming up in November it was to be expected that the Lions sauerkraut and weiner day at Frankfort would draw some of the office seekers. There were candidates there from both parties. The two here facing the camera are Robert Spreitzer, (left) candidate for re-election as Will county recorder and Robert Higgins, Joliet, a candidate for associate circuit judge in the 12th judicial circuit. Both are Republicans. Incidentally this is the first time Higgins has sought elective office. Next to Mr. Higgins is Attorney A. H. Krusemark, a Frankfort, committeeman.

lieve their maximum intellectual development, experience democratic principles and ideals, become aware of the cultural heritage of the United States, and become responsible citizens capable of self-direction.

It is an ambitious program which utilizes some unique ideas. Undoubtedly the two schools, Amos Alonzo Stagg and Carl Sandburg, will have considerable influence on each other over the course of the next decade.

Asks Voters To Register

Cook County Clerk Edward J. Barrett today issued an appeal to all voters in the Suburban areas, (under his jurisdiction), if not registered, to do so, as soon as possible, with their respective City, Village or Township Clerk, so as to avoid the last minute rush.

Voters residing within incorporated municipalities should register with their Village or city clerk; those residing in the unincorporated areas, should register with their township clerk.

The deadline for this type of registration, according to Barrett, is Monday, Sept. 21.

Barrett said that voters failing to make this deadline could still register in the down town office of his Election Department in room 230 of the County Building up to and including Monday, Oct. 5.

On Tuesday, Oct. 6, Barrett said, all polling places in Cook county would accept registrations.

Mrs. Thomas Curtin and Mrs. William Rietveld, room representative co-chairman have enlisted two mothers for each room to act as hostesses. The mothers will get to meet the teachers and at this time will receive a list of their duties and prospective room lists.

It's Good To Have A Choice

Everyone is saying that this year's presidential campaign will be the hardest fought of modern times. That seems a certainty, in the light of the characters and positions of President Johnson and Senator Goldwater. Both are politicians of the driving type, and neither gives quarter when matters of power, influence and principle are at stake.

Along with this, a great many informed people think that the election may be the most historically important of the century. For, in their view, out of it could come political realignments that would vastly change the political complexion of the country and determine for a long time to come the course we are to take, both in domestic matters and our attitude toward world affairs.

The big question has to do with what is called the mainstream of present-day American thinking. It is the question that, in the opinion of the conservative groups which make up the dedicated hard-core of Goldwater supporters, the American people have not had a chance to answer. They argue that the voters have not been given a clear-cut choice between two sharply different philosophies of government. For the most part, their argument continues, there has been an excess of "me-tooism" on the part of Republican candidates, and this has alienated great numbers of voters and played into the hands of the Democrats. The upshot, as they see it, has been the gradual development of a welfare state government which is not wanted by a majority of our citizens.

Next November should certainly tell how much truth there is or isn't in this position. The President and the Senator provide, in their policies, about as broad a difference as anyone could ask. That difference extends to every issue of real consequence. The Administration holds that our intermingled defense and foreign policies are sound and productive; the other side charges timidity, indecision and retreat, and finds grave defects in our military programs. The President is unequivocally committed to the new civil rights bill; Senator Goldwater voted against it--not because he opposes racial equality, but on constitutional grounds. Mr. Johnson solidly backs major extensions of federal aid and relief projects of assorted kinds; Mr. Goldwater holds that these, generally, are wrong in principle and ineffective and excessively wasteful in practice. The rights, obligations and responsibilities of the states are very precious to the Senator, and he sees the increase of federal power as a menace to our very system of government. The President disagrees. Both men and parties, of course, are in agreement in their opposition to the communist tide, but there is a world of difference in the policies they urge to contain and defeat it.

There is no doubt that the Goldwater drive is making deep inroads in the once solidly Democratic South, or that the Democrats are picking up strength in some areas that were once dependably Republican.

Indeed, it's been a long time since there were so many political question marks on the horizon, or when it was so difficult to analyze the hopes, beliefs and loyalties of the electorate. And the stakes -- not just for the parties and the candidates, but for us all -- are great beyond measure.

At the annual University of Illinois Agronomy Day, Illinois farmers will hear the latest research results on narrow-row corn, sorghum-sudangrass hybrids, new crop varieties and many other studies conducted by U of I agronomists.

Tours will start at 9 a.m. Sept. 10 and continue over the Agronomy South Farm throughout the morning. Lunch and refreshments will be available. Included in the program at the South Farm are (1) Agronomist Johnny Pendleton's work on narrow-row spacing and population. Corn is planted in 20, 30- and 40-inch rows with one, two, three or more kernels per hill. Populations range from 16,000 to 96,000 plants per acre. (2) Soybean researcher Bob Howell's efforts to raise soybean yields. He'll explain why soybean yields don't increase so rapidly as corn yields, and what problems and challenges are involved in boosting soybean yields. (3) Forage specialists' studies on large plantings of sorghum-sudangrass hybrids and how they're performing under various cutting heights and management systems. Specialists will also compare outstanding new alfalfa varieties growing side by side with present favorites.

Other features include new disease-resistant corn hybrids, control of giant foxtail in corn and soybeans; soybean variety trials and up-to-the-minute information on wheat varieties and fertilization. The public is invited.

Don't try to beat the machine when you are cornpicking! Here's why:

A stalk of corn goes through the snapping rolls at a speed of seven feet a second. It is a scientific fact that you will need four-tenths of a second just to let go of a cornstalk. This means that a cornstalk goes about three feet through the rolls while you are only reacting to the danger.

But wait! The first reaction when a stalk suddenly starts through the rolls is most naturally the wrong one. The natural reaction when someone tries to grab a stick away from you is to grab tighter. The effect is to more than double the reaction time before you can let go. So the simple reason why farmers get caught in snapping rolls is that they don't understand their natural reaction time. And it's a basic failing of all humans, not farmers alone.

If you try to unclog or adjust a cornpicker without first stopping it, you are taking about the same chances as if you walked across a busy four-lane highway blindfolded. So don't try to beat the machine.

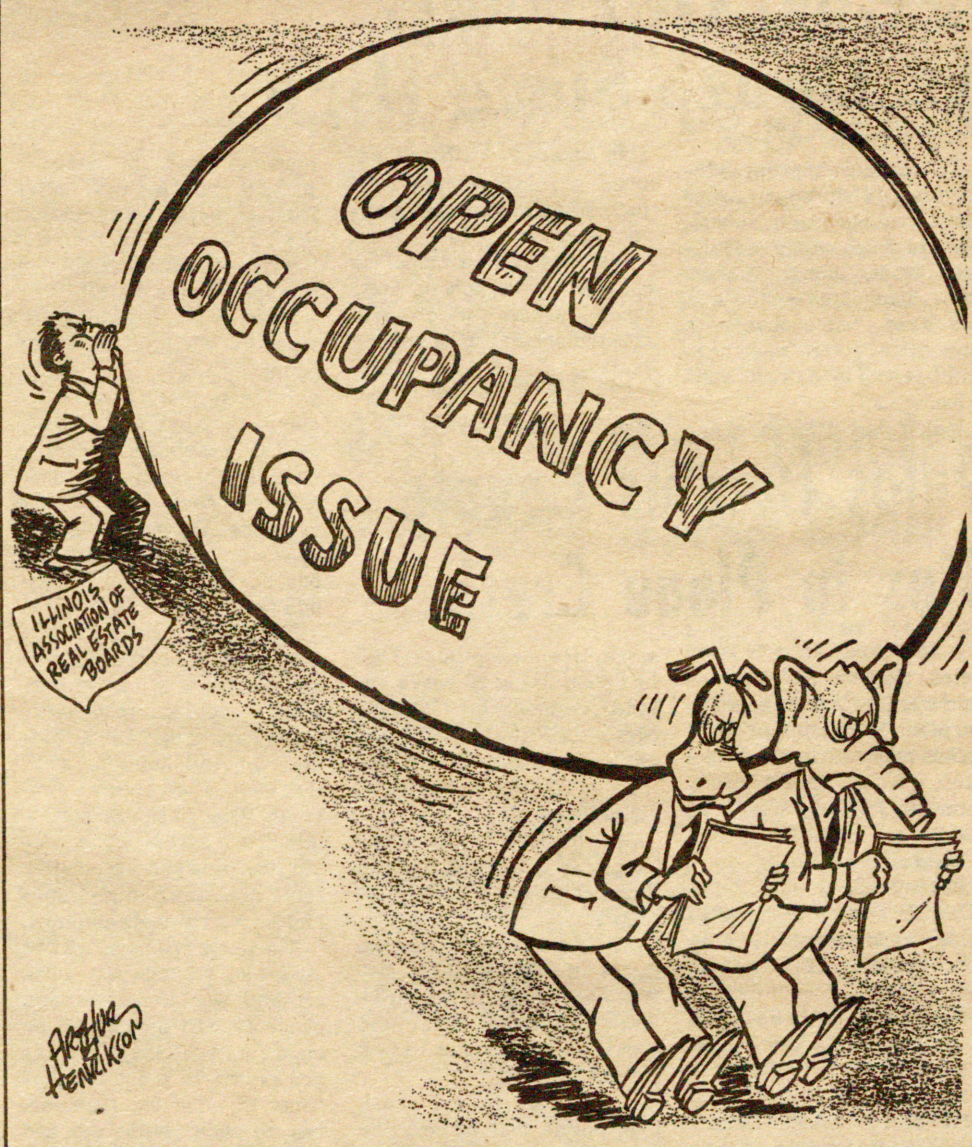

Goodwill Industries Seek Work

Back to school means new teachers, books and clothes. But what about apparel that is replaced?

If mothers donate this clothing to Goodwill Industries, it will give Goodwill's handicapped workers needed "back to school" training in skills they can handle with their disabilities, it was pointed out by a Goodwill Industrial spokesman.

Every day in Goodwill's workshops, located at 1500 West Monroe Street, people with handicaps learn, earn and train toward eventual placement in private industry by repairing and renovating articles donated by the public. Renovated clothing, appliances, furniture

Uninvited

ON 2nd THOT

By Glenn Logan

WE SEE by the papers that some fellow--the name escapes me--was giving Shakespeare what for the other day. He complained that everything the Bard wrote was dirty and that if people today could understand just the words none of his plays would be permitted on the modern stage.

This fellow is a writer of plays himself--I wish I could think of his name--and he appeared to be quite bitter about the fact that Shakespeare was billed as a top dramatist and that his writings were still required reading in high schools and colleges.

To him the famous son of Stratford-on-Avon was a disher of dirty language and entitled to nothing but the old heave-ho in any polite society.

That surprised us somewhat because we didn't realize that Mr. S. was so dirty. It is true that some of the words used by the Bard had a different meaning than they do today. Understanding the meanings of the words by Shakespeare is a laborious task--almost a course in itself--as one has to sit with a book of Shakespeare's plays in one hand and a and toys are then sold in Goodwill's retail stores, and the sales provide the main source of wages for the handicapped workers who repaired the items.

To arrange for a Goodwill truck pickup of no-longer-used materials, householders may call their nearest area representative, Mrs. Ruth Sebben, at 815-722-5189.

glossary of same in the other and that makes for difficult going. If this modern playwright who is knocking Shakespeare can understand all the words and sentence structure of his plays without using any reference then he is quite a learned chap, in that realm at least, and if he can sort them all out by ear simply by attending a Shakespeare play, the man is a genius.

WE DON'T know what kind of plays this fellow writes because we can't remember his name, but we are sure that it wasn't Tennessee Williams. If he writes dirty plays himself we can't see why he should be taking Mr. S. to task on such a charge and if he doesn't write dirty plays today then he probably isn't selling any.

If theaters showing Shakespearean plays should be closed because of the dirty language what about those showing some of the modern dramas? One doesn't need a glossary to keep up with them unless one has led an ultra sheltered existence.

It would seem that if one would be a successful -- we mean from a monetary standpoint -- novelist or playwright today all one has to do is to contrive a situation peopled with psychos, sex and perverts who know all the four letter words and use them freely, with all their variations.

For those who like their dirtiness straight, we would advise them to stick to today's workmen. Sure, you can get some dirt from Shakespeare's stuff if you dig for it but he wraps it up in a lot of words and puts it in a nice way, as so many of the ancient writers did.

Mr. S. lived in an age when speech was rather free and easy and it would have been surprising if he had not included a certain robustness in his writing. What is surprising is that he was not more earthy than he was. His subtlety would not pay off in the modern market where a spade must be a spade.

COME TO THINK about it, spade is not a proper word today--it has five letters instead of four.

It is quite possible that the fellow who would ban Shakespeare from today's stage today is just trying for a bit of free publicity. Maybe he has a play coming up that he hopes to sell and if he can get a controversy started it will help. It is just another form of advertising.

If one can make his name a household word, then it is easy to cash in on it. It is difficult for an unknown to board the gravy train; even when they make it, it is still necessary to keep before the public. The public forgets so easily. Even the Beatles will eventually succumb to forgetfulness.

I do wish I could remember that fellow's name that was annoyed with Shakespeare. He must be important because the story way carried by the wire services and appeared in the metropolitan papers, and maybe I should have given him a plug.

Oh, well, it doesn't really make any difference. His clipping bureau probably doesn't subscribe to any of the weeklies, so he won't know whether he was mentioned or not.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM E. BERNARD

Miss Sally P. Keller Becomes Bride Of Walter E. Bernard Of Mokena

Attired in a traditional white ensemble, Miss Sally P. Keller of Grand Ridge, Ill., walked down the aisle of the Grand Ridge Methodist church, Saturday afternoon, Aug. 29, to become the bride of Walter E. Bernard, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bernard, 11037 Bryant road, Mokena.

Miss Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Keller of Grand Ridge, was given in marriage by her father.

Her gown of pure silk organza, was fashioned with long sleeves, a high bateau-type neckline and a bell-shaped skirt. The waistline was accented with a set-in midriff. Appliques of re-embroidered organza ornamented the front bodice and skirt and the bottom of the removable wateau train. A bouffant, pure silk illusion veil fell from a small handmade beaded crown. She carried phalanopsis orchids, stephanotis and ivy in a cascading bouquet.

Rev. Bronson N. Smith officiated at the 2:30 p.m. double ring ceremony, before an altar of white gladioli and carnations with salad foliage.

Randolph Bohannon sang selections befitting the occasion, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Walter.

Miss Jane L. Keller served as her sister's maid of honor, Miss Mary Ann Johnston as the bridesmaid. They were both attired in floor length gowns of sparkling turquoise. The dresses were belled skirts, empire waistlines and elbow length sleeves. Their matching bow headpieces held bouffant veils and each carried a single white carnation duchess rose and salad foliage.

Miss Esther Bernard, flower girl, wore a dress identical to the bridesmaids and carried a basket of turquoise and white carnations.

Delbert Yunker served as bestman. Groomsman and ushers were Darrell Erickson, Lorne Nieman and Ronald Schobert.

The reception for 300 was held in the church Fellowship hall, following the service. Hostesses were mesdames: Wilbur Black, Norman Bernard, Raymond Bernard, Randolph Bohannon, Arthur Walter, Clarence Walter, Glen Walter, Harold Walter, George Schobert, Ralph Schobert and Delbert Yunker.

Also misses Helen Schobert, Karen Schobert, Doris Walter, Lanita O'Dell, Nancy Schobert, Gayle Bernard, Barbara Bernard.

The new Mrs. Bernard selected a two-piece green knit suit with brown accessories for her traveling. Her corsage of orchids was taken from the bridal bouquet.

Returning from a honeymoon to the northern states the couple is now residing at Mokena.

The bride is a graduate of Ottawa Twp. high school and Silver Cross hospital, School of Nursing. She is employed as a registered nurse at Silver Cross hospital.

The groom graduated from Orland Park high school and is engaged in farming.

Women Can Win Prizes For Domestic Wool Creations

Illinois women and girls who are winners in the 1964 "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest can win about $2000 in merchandise prizes. The deadline for entering this year's contest is Oct. 25.

Purpose of the contest is to promote the use of American produced wool and to teach young people the pleasures of using wool in clothing construction, according to Delores Parrott, Illinois Agricultural association director of family activities.

Contestants are to make a garment from domestic wool and model the garment at one of nine district contest style shows slated on Oct. 31. District contests will be held at Rockford, Cambridge, New Lenox, Peoria, Petersburg, Decatur, Newton, Belleville and Harrisburg. Merchandise awards will be made to district winners.

Entry forms are available at county Farm Bureau offices. The Illinois contest is divided into three age classifications: girls from 14 to 17; girls from 18 to 21 and women over 21. The contest is sponsored in Illinois by the Illinois Farm Bureau Women's committee, the American Wool council and the Illinois Sheep Breeders' association.

District first place winners in each age group will compete in the state style show and contest in conjunction with the Illinois Farm Bureau Women's conference at the IAA annual meeting Nov. 17 in Chicago.

The national winner will receive a 14-day European tour as grand prize. The state contest is the final phase of the competition for the "over 21" category in Illinois.

There is already some evidence that the program may also help to upgrade instruction materials for children of average ability, as well.

The first fall meeting of the Frankfort Woman's Club will be held Thursday, Sept. 17 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Albert Krusemark. Mrs. James Parker, president, will preside at the business meeting.

To Heck With ABC's Start Em On Science

At what level can a child be expected to grasp such subject matter as atomic theory, the way to abstract properties from geometric figures, or the conditions that affect land formations?

As early as the first grade in many cases, say researchers at Illinois State University. And this fall, they look forward to seeing their beliefs justified in public school classrooms.

Illinois State research personnel, thru a $78,000 grant from the state office of public instruction, are conducting an experimental project to determine academic capabilities of early elementary grade pupils. They are developing and testing materials designed to promote higher thought processes among gifted youngsters in the first grade.

There is already some evidence that the program may also help to upgrade instruction materials for children of average ability, as well.

One of the ISU research groups' primary tasks is the organizing of materials and presenting of them in an individual, self-instructional format so that they will be useable in the ordinary classroom without unduly taxing the teacher's time.

Each student will have an individual set of materials and will receive instructions by tape recording, again on an individual basis so that he can proceed at his own rate. He will then follow thru with the materials, conducting experiments and exercises which will enable him to reason through to answers of problems.

At present, the research team, headed by Dr. Theodore Sands and Dr. Charles Hicklin, co-investigators for the project, is developing packages of materials for study in mathematics, science and social science. An example is a unit in science, in which the young pupil uses materials to make sample land formations, thru use of various grades of soil, different types of adhesives and in some cases pressure. He can then observe effects of friction, water and other factors in erosion.

The project has been tried successfully in Metcalf Laboratory School on the ISU campus. This fall, 13 Bloomington-Normal public school teachers will use it in their classrooms, with an evaluation planned after a year's time.

Cook Co. Moves To Speed Work On Road

(CNS) The county board has approved a proposal by Andrew V. Plummer, superintendent of highways for speeding up completion of the west leg of the Dan Ryan Expressway.

The proposal consists of hiring private firms of consulting engineers to supplement the forces of the Cook county highway department so that the west leg can be completed in a minimum of time.

Present projections are for completion of the west leg out of 169th Street by 1966. This is necessary because the state plans to have completed the portion of the highway from 169th Street to Champaign. The west leg will then connect with this route and make it possible to travel from Chicago's Loop and beyond to Champaign by an all-expressway route.

The total cost of the contract for the entire job is around $50,000,000, $15,000,000 of which will be worked on by the private consulting engineers.

The firms are:

Knoerie, Bender, Stone & Associates, 211 W. Wacker Dr.; Consoer, Townsend & Associates, 360 W. Grand Ave.; Alfred Benesch & Associates, 10 S. Wabash and Nelson Ostrom, Baskin, Berman & Associates, 300 W. Adams.

on this Brady Model 144 4-Row Chopper

• Pull your tandem disc behind the Brady 4-Row Chopper and do the entire job at one time.

• One man can chop and disc up to 100 acres per day.

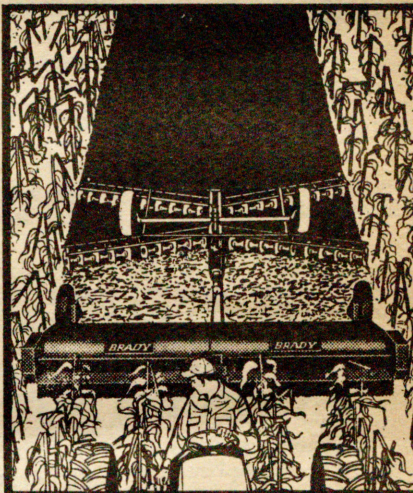

• You do a better job of plowing. Stalks will be finely pulverized and not windrowed or bunched.

• You can pull the 4-Row Chopper and disc with your 4-5 plow tractor.

• Excellent for clipping idle acres and pastures.

• One pass thru the field and you're ready to plow.

• Why tie up 2 men and 2 tractors and take twice as long when one man and one tractor will do the entire job.

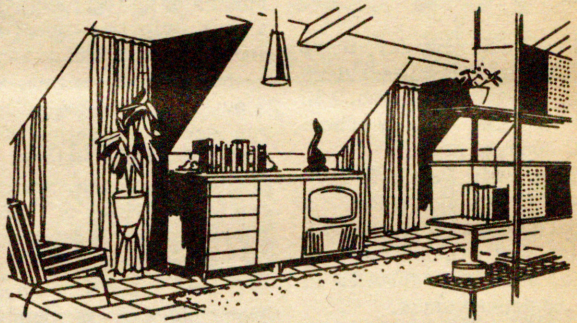

The new Brady 4-Row Chopper on my floor can be purchased by some farmer in this area at his own price. There are no gimmicks. Hurry and come in to get the details!

Wants Building Permits Posted; Police To Check

New Lenox police are instructed to keep a watch on all building operations in the village to make certain that all have permits and display them. Trustee Wilbur Thackrey raised the question at the regular meeting of the village board last Friday night. He said that he had noticed a building in progress but did not see a permit posted. Under the ordinance, it was pointed out, a contractor must post the permit on the premises where construction is taking place.

It was brought out that one contract obtained permits but did not post them on the grounds that someone tore them down.

Following the record-breaking enrollments last year, adult education classes are again getting under way in District 230.

More than 20 other classes will be offered.

Erdman said that classes can be taught at Stagg High if a minimum of 15 enroll in each course. Only those people not attending high school are eligible to enroll.

1st Grade Has Most Pupils At Frankfort

The first week of school at Frankfort saw a total enrollment of 389, an increase of 19 pupils over enrollment at the close of the 1963-64 school year last June.

The first grade has the largest number of pupils this year—52, with the eighth grade next with 49.

The enrollment is divided among the other grades as follows:

Morning kindergarten--21
Afternoon kindergarten--18

Second grade--39
Third grade--34
Fourth grade--44
Fifth grade--45
Sixth grade--40
Seventh grade--41

There are four pupils in special education classes.

With the exception of the first grade all classes are housed in the regular school building. The first grade is using space at St. Peter's church.

In order to make the regular school building serve the number of pupils it does the rooms previously used for choral, educational TV and science have been converted into home room stations.

To remedy this lack of facilities the school board has hired the architectural firm of Kruegel, Healy and Moore, of Joliet, to develop plans for a new building. It is expected that a bond referendum to provide funds for this proposed new school will be held early this fall, according to a board spokesman.

George Williams College Campus Will Include 14 Major Buildings

Fourteen major buildings will be constructed on the new 200-acre campus of George Williams College, Downers Grove, it was announced today by President Richard E. Hamlin.

Targer date for the opening of the $8,200,000 campus which will accommodate approximately 600 students is September, 1965. The college, now located at 5315 South Drexel avenue, prepares young men and women for professional careers in YMCAs, Boys' Clubs, health and physical education, settlements, churches and other voluntary organizations.

A campaign for funds with which to build the new campus, increase faculty, research, study programs and endowment has reached nearly $4,000,000 toward a goal of $10,189,000.

A number of new concepts of design, providing open space with traffic patterns which make possible future expansion of the college facilities, have been incorporated into the campus plan by the architects, Mittelbushner and Tourtelot.

A central quadrangle will be faced on three sides by the main classroom building, the Arts and Science Building, which has a 200-seat Memorial Lecture Hall attached; a Leisure and Creative Arts Center, incorporating not only gym-nadium and swimming pool but also art, dance and music studios; and a 71,000-volume library, in which administrative offices will be located.

A two-story Campus Center will house a 200-seat dining room, lounges, bookstore, student association offices, health service offices, and games room.

Other buildings will include five residence halls for single men and women, all connected to a central lodge. Each residence will accommodate 72 students in 36 double rooms with connecting baths. In addition, 48 married students and their children will be housed in three other 1 1/2-story buildings.

Lewis College Reaches 'Milestone In Growth'

Brother L. Paul, F.S.C., President of Lewis College, in his recent message to the community stated: "Lewis College has been able to make notable progress in the 60's through the generosity of friends of the college, together with the excellent work of the faculty and students." These few words, when translated into facts, tell the story of Lewis College as the doors open for the 1964-65 academic year.

During the "summer break," on June 18, 1964, Lewis College dedicated three recently constructed buildings, Fitzpatrick Hall, John F. Kennedy Memorial Gymnasium and Trinity Hall. These structures are only part of the visible changes and growth taking place at Lewis. The most dramatic changes are evinced in activities and only reflected in the new buildings that are necessary to house these activities. Brother Louis De La Salle, F.S.C., Vice - President Academic Affairs, at the dedication

As Elders Go So Goes The Morals Of Students

Moral standards of college students, a subject of concern in responsible journals of late, have not declined disproportionately to those of the general public.

That is the belief of Dr. Richard E. Hulet, dean of students at Illinois State university.

Commenting on a seemingly growing apprehension by the public about student behavior, Dean Hulet declared that he believes moral standards of college students, if anything, are generally above those of persons in the same age group who are out working.

"A proper college setting seems to contribute to a higher moral standard," Dean Hulet declared. "However, because college students are in a somewhat more centralized location they are more in the spotlight of public attention than other groups. There is emphasis on the mis-interpretation of what is observed rather than what actually occurs."

The Illinois State dean said that moral behavior of college students is often a reflection of that of their parents or others in the adult world, whether it be a movie star, national political hero or some other figure.

Consequently, said Dr. Hulet, moral behavior of college students tends to follow the patterns set by adults.

He granted that attitudes by Americans toward sex and related subjects have generally become more relaxed in recent years. Influencing this change, he said, are such factors as advances in technology, increased wealth and additional leisure.

"The public, however," Dean Hulet pointed out, "tends to expect more in terms of personal behavior from the college student, while oftentimes excusing moral laxity in others. People look to the college student to be a model of good citizenship. And while there are exceptions, in most cases this is true."

gin at Silver Cross hospital on Sept. 15 it was announced today by Mrs. Naomi Corsini, director of nursing education who will receive registrations until Friday, September 11. Call 727-1711, extension 765 or 733 between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. week days.

In-service programs keep nurses working in hospital up to date on equipment, medicines and techniques, but there have been so many rapid changes in everything concerning the care of the sick in the last few years that the inactive nurse feels the need of a refresher course before returning to active duty. The course at Silver Cross in which class room instruction is integrated with supervised clinical experience is designed to give those who take it a feeling of security and renewed enthusiasm for nursing.

Forty graduates representing a dozen schools of nursing have completed the required work since the refresher courses were inaugurated three years ago. Twenty-three have worked at Silver Cross with the remainder employed in other institutions or related fields and one entering college to obtain a bachelor's degree.

The faculty will include 22 doctors from the medical staff who will lecture on all systems of the body as follows: neurological system (care of patient with head injury, craniotomy, laminectomy), Dr. A. D. McCoy; cardio-vascular surgery, Dr. R. A. Tarizzo; peripheral vascular and hematological disorders, Dr. O.J. Novota; respiratory system, Dr. R. W. Fricke; modern anesthesia, Dr. William DeWitt; X-ray cobalt, isotope therapy, Dr. F. M. Geist; emergency child birth, Dr. R. L. Annis.

Gynecological system, Dr. Joseph Fields; gastro-intestinal system, Dr. T. J. Fitzpatrick; cardio-vascular system, Dr. T. Z. Polley; eye, Dr. George Carlin; ear, nose and throat, Dr. August Martinucci; musculo-skeletal system, Dr. H. L. Sather; open method of burn therapy, Dr. William Meadows; carcinoma, Dr. J. J. McLaughlin; fluid balance, Dr. Irving Rudman; new laboratory procedures and tests, Dr. F. C. Bauer; diabetes, Dr. A. M. Brixey; endocrine glands, Dr. J. J. Nordland; skin and allergies, Dr. R. J. Becker; pediatrics, Dr. J. H. Hummel; and genitourinary system Dr. J. F. Carney.

New trends in nursing will be discussed and development of nursing skills taught including starting intravenous infusions and blood transfusion therapy. New drugs will be discussed by the pharmacist, Miss Edna Bell. Among items of new equipment to be demonstrated are the Bennet respirator, aquamatic K pad, piped in wall oxygen and suction equipment, alternating pressure mattress, circ-o-lectric bed, proto-lift and the Brewer electronically controlled system of dispensing medicines. The medical-legal aspects of nursing will be discussed by Attorney Charles McKeown. And Ray Lichten-walter will talk on liability insurance.

It is a 70 hour course with classes held on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

EVENING SCHOOL DIRECTOR

team was rated by Wilson as "timewise the best team in Sandburg history."

Thus this year's team appears headed for a winning season. The team is headed by junior and two year letterman Doran Harding. Last year Harding was Sandburg's top man placing fourth in the Tinley Park Invitational, seventh in conference, 17th in the 140 man district and had the best time on the Sandburg course.

Harding is backed up by senior and two-year letterman Tim Sedgwick and senior letterman Chuck Crowhurst and Bob Montessor.

For his other three men Wilson is counting on junior Ted Messlein who finished seventh in the frosh-soph conference, sophomore John Biddle who finished eighth in conference and sophomore Ed Zeman who with Biddle was a standout in track.

The Eagles should win a majority of their dual meets but may have trouble in conference and district competition.

Rich East and Evergreen Park will compete against the Eagles for conference honors. Rich last year swept conference and won district sending them to state competition. Evergreen Park took second in conference and third in district last year. Both of these teams have almost their entire squads returning this year. Sandburg last year took fourth in conference and tied for fifth with Blue Island in the 20 team district. In the district meet Sandburg will have to not only face Rich and Evergreen but also Blue Island who has nine returning lettermen and Thornridge. Thornridge took second last year in district and beat the Eagles by a place by winning the Tinley Park Invitational.

Other top teams in district are Rich Central who finished fourth last year and Bloom who finished seventh.

Eagles To Hold Annual Grid Jamboree Sept. 13

A live scrimmage, with both offense and defense featured, will highlight the third annual Eagle Booster football jamboree at the Sandburg field on Sunday, Sept. 13.

The program will open at 4 p.m. with professional photographers and parents snapping shots of the varsity and sub - varsity teams. During the afternoon, the cross country team will run an intra-squad race, coaches will be introduced and the squads (Sandburg has four) will be introduced. The freshman team, under the direction of Bob Gadt, coach, will run through several drills.

Barbecue sandwiches, potato chips, and a cold drink will be served, with the last event scheduled to end at 7 p.m. In case of rain, the jamboree is scheduled for the gymnasium or cafeteria.

Devine emphasized that the scrimmage by the varsity would be just that. It is not a game and no score will be kept. But fans will have a chance to see inside the strategy of the two teams, and catch a glimpse of what opponents will have to face this season.

The event comes just six days before the season opener against the always powerful Morgan Park on Sept. 19. The game is at home.

Proceeds from the jamboree are earmarked for game films and the purchase of athletic equipment. The program is headed up by Glen Aronson of 12940-82nd Court in Palos Park.

Tickets are $1 and can be purchased at the Sandburg bookstore or can be obtained from booster members and GAA members.

GOLD OUTFLOW—Pointing out that in all but 6 of the last 34 years government spending has exceeded its income and that foreign nations have reduced our gold stock from $24.5 billion to $15.5 billion mostly by purchases with aid dollars, Rep. James Battin (R-Mont.) has called for elimination of deficit spending at home and deep cuts in foreign aid expenditures.

BOOTSTRAP, INC.—Rep. M. G. Snyder (R-Ky.) reports that Elkins, W. Va., town of 9,000 population in Appalachia that is plagued by unemployment refuses to seek federal aid and the community leaders have a stock answer for those who try to get them to reconsider. It is: "We're sick and tired of hearing about poverty. Just tell the people in Washington we intend to pull ourselves up by our own bootstraps."

Letters To The Editor

IMMIGRATION

Dear Sir: A bill shall soon be offered to the Senate (S. 1932) and to the House (H.R. 7700) which will eliminate all legal immigration quotas. Intensive pressure will be applied to congressmen by the Administration and the so-called nationality groups in the big cities of the U.S. who control powerful voting blocs.

Should this bill be passed, countries with the greatest population pressures and the greatest political trouble would provide the bulk of the immigrants. Under this pressure, The U.S.A. could become the foster home for millions of people seeking escape from poverty in Asia and Africa. Should the quota barriers be removed, we would be deluged by a flood of aliens whose only desire might be to join those who are being fed and housed by our welfare programs. Who will make room for them so that they will have a place to live? Who will support them until they learn our language and find jobs? Whose jobs will they take?

The 40,000 Puerto Ricans who come into New York each year have depressed wages, increased crime rates, complicated complex health and education problems and added $35 million a year to our welfare costs. The cost of local, State and Federal welfare exceeds $40 billion a year. Let us not invite more trouble and expense at this time.

The McCarran - Walter Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952 must not be nullified by this new Bill. The Act of 1952 protects the United States against the migration of undesirables to our shores and is handled on a non-political basis. Should this regulation be placed in the hands of a seven man politically appointed Immigration Advisory Board, therein lies the great danger that immigration privileges could be turned into a vote buying scheme.

Every good citizen, who is interested in keeping politics out of this area of government control, should write to their Senators and Representatives and tell them that you would like for them to VOTE AGAINST Bill S.1932 and H.R. 7700. It is imperative that you do so at once because they may be presented for vote before the election in November.

Patriotically
Henry W. Hicks
Orland Park, Ill.

P.S. Your Representative Ross Bass is alleged to have agreed to vote for H.R. 7700.

30 YEARS WITH THE FSLIC

THE F.S.L.I.C. STORY — "SILENT PARTNER" IN A $110 BILLION BUSINESS

The Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation was launched 30 years ago to rebuild public confidence in financial institutions. This federal government agency has become a remarkable example of a successful partnership between government and private business.

The agency's primary objection was admittedly short-term; to help "put out the fire." Its justification for existence was to provide a government guarantee of savings accounts. This guarantee of accounts would bring substantial funds back into the savings and loan associations, thus stimulating home building and creating badly needed jobs. There was little time to think about the agency's long-term effects that are well known now.

Savings and loan leaders credit the insurance corporation with playing a key role in the business's exceptional growth. The savings and loan industry today is a $110 billion business, and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation has played a key role in this exceptional growth.

Financial Federal Savings is proud of the fact it became one of the first savings and loan associations to become a member of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, approximately 30 years ago. Our federal charter, combined with 1. membership in the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation; 2. membership in the Federal Home Loan Bank; 3. plus 40 years of experience, has made Financial Federal Savings one of the strongest and soundest financial institutions in the Middle West.
